FOR AMBULATORY SURGERY

Invitation to the World Congress on Day surgery in Oslo 2024

Dear Sponsors of the World Congress on Ambulatory Surgery in Oslo 2024!

We are honored to announce that the 15th international Congress on Ambulatory Surgery will be held in Oslo, Norway, 13 - 15 May 2024 and it is with great pleasure we invite you to take part in this important event.

Ambulatory surgery has experienced tremendous growth during recent years. We continue to do more complex procedures and treat more complex patients, some of whom are vulnerable such as the elderly, children, children with special needs, mentally disabled and many more. Thanks to innovation in surgery, anesthesia, and nursing but above all thanks to interdisciplinary teamwork we can guarantee safe home discharge for everybody all over the world.

This event will address to a multidisciplinary public: Surgeons, anesthesiologists, nurses, managers, in short anyone with a heart for ambulatory surgery/anesthesia. We expect around 1.000 delegates from all over the world to attend the event.

Local and international speakers, mainly surgeons, anesthesiologists and nurses will be present, and several workshops will be organized.

We are planning an excellent program for next year; updates will be presented on our website (<http://theiaas.net> and www.nordaf.no).

In the planning and implementation of a congress of this magnitude and with this diversity of surgical specialities it is of utmost importance that we have a solid and good cooperation with the sponsors. In that regard, we wish to emphasize that we will try our best to accommodate your needs or request to the best of our abilities.

Please find attached our e-flyer for IAAS Oslo 2024 as well as the options for sponsorships. If you want to notify us on your interest as sponsors, or if you need any additional information, please contact our organizer at kristin@ksci.no.
